Introduction

Martin Luther King Jr. quoted:

If you can't fly, then run.

If you can't run, then walk.

If you can't walk, then crawl,
but by all means, keep moving.

Moving ahead is the law of nature. We should keep moving forward, opening new doors and doing new things because we're curious and curiosity keeps leading us to new paths.

We hope that our young MVNites are relaxed, recharged and ready to start the second innings of the Academic Session 2019 - 2020. We are indeed a joyous and caring community with the goals of nurturing responsible, caring students and promoting high level learning. We value your positive energy and look forward to working with you and your children for another incredible and productive academic year. Together, we know that we will make this school year one of growth and achievement for our children.

Every single one of you has something that you're good at. Every single one of you has something to offer and you have a responsibility to yourself to discover what that is. The process of discovering what's within never ends.

If you believe in yourself and have dedication and price and never quit, you'll be a winner. The price of victory is high and so are the rewards. Remember, you are braver than you believe, stronger than you seem and smarter than you think.

FROM THE PRINCIPAL'S DESK

We all want to be the best parents we can be for our children but there is often conflicting advice on how to raise a kid who is confident, kind and successful. Throughout the circus act of parenting, it's important to focus on balancing priorities, juggling responsibilities and quickly flipping between the needs of your children, other family members and yourself. Modern parents have the entire internet at their disposal and don't follow any single authority. It's hard to know whom or what to trust.

There is no one right way to raise a child.

Research tells us that to raise a self-reliant child with high self-esteem, it is more effective to be authoritative than being an authoritarian. You want your child to listen, respect and trust you rather than fear you. You want to be supportive, but not a hovering, helicopter parent.

If you want to help your children make the most of their potential and you want them to be contributing members of society, actively listen to what your kids have to say. Show good judgement and stick to your rules. Be a good role model and good human. Stay in control of your emotions. Show lots of love during quality time which will help you to know your child. Talk to your child, and when necessary, help your child negotiate the decisions that make it possible to keep doing the things that mean the most to them. All of these things are easy to set as goals, but hard to achieve

As your child develops, the challenges will change, and your thinking may evolve, but your approach should be consistent, firm and loving. Help your child learn through experience that making an effort builds confidence and helps you learn to tackle challenges. Calibrate your expectations about what your child is capable of doing independently, whether you have an infant learning to sleep through the night, a toddler helping to put toys away, or an older child resolving conflicts. Some children really do thrive on what would be, for others, extreme over scheduling.

Remember, there is no one right way to raise a child. Do your best, trust yourself and enjoy the company of the little one in your life.

HAPPY PARENTING

Compassion and empathy is what the senior citizens need the most. The students of our school along with their teachers spent some quality time with these senior citizens sharing their joys and sorrows. Students gave them gifts, sang devotional songs, shared some memorable moments and by making them sing and dance with them.

This visit was a big learning experience for the young students. They got first-hand experience of their responsibilities towards the senior members of the society.

JOCUND JOURNEY TO OH ! MAX

The fun filled trip on 28 September 2019 to Oh! Max Greater Noida was really enjoyable for the students of Grade I - IX. They enjoyed a lot at the largest indoor theme park. The children were thrilled to be there as they experienced this world full of fun, delight and wonder. All segments of Oh! Max – 'Oh! Taj, Treasure of Tut, The Chocolate Factory, Jungles of Amazon, The Unsinkable Titanic and the Mirror Maze' really added to their excitement. The Adventure Park and Sea Ball Pool tested the stamina and strength of children.

The live performances of the artist added to the ethos of fun and frolic. The adventure activities and various other group activities helped in developing team spirit and social skills. It was an ideal place for children as they got a chance to indulge in some great fun and learning.

PLANTATION DRIVE

'Green Ambassadors' of our school took an initiative to battle against the increasing industrialization and commercialization by planting saplings.

The children enthusiastically took the charge to change the face of mother earth.

Tree plantation is a harbinger of prosperity. Keeping this in mind the students added to the green cover and pledged to be instrumental in creating awareness among people and planting more trees.

कविता - गांधी जी

दुनिया ने देखा था
ऐसे इक इंसान को

सत्य, अहिंसा से भी मुमकिन
था जीतना इस जहान को

ऐसे महान थे गांधी
भारत की शाम थे गांधी

अफ्रीका में लड़ी लड़ाई
भेदभाव था दूर भगाया
आजादी की सही राह को
भारत में आकर समझाया

भूख रहे गये, लाठी खाई
न भूले आपने मान को

सत्य, अहिंसा से भी मुमकिन
था जीतना इस जहान को

ऐसे महान थे गांधी
भारत की शान थे गांधी

BONHEUR

Vous ne pouvez pas acheter le bonheur, parceque le Bonheur est gratuit.

Ne savez-vous pas ou pouvez vous devenir?

C'est là pour vous et moi

Et ce que tu fais avec ce que tu as peur, changer la façon vous vous sentez

Faites juste votre meilleur et souriez beaucoup

Tu vas garder une quille même .

Parceque le bonheur est fait pour vous

Prenez juste une boucheé et voyez

Ce bonheur est ce que tu fais

Avec quelquechose qui est gratuit.

MY MOTHER

O Mother, I salute thee,
For you are never tension- free.
You are always by my side,
Be it in my fears or in my tears.
You take care of me; from my cough and cold,
To my most scared hold.
You are my best friend,
And our bonding will never end.
I give you so many surprises,
But they aren't of huge prices.
Still you don't mind,
Just keep them as the most valuable of all kind.
You do all the work; in the home as well as in office,
But you never complain just bear all the pain.
I love you, and will always,
You too do the same; but you never express it.
You prove it in your own ways.

CONCLUSION

School will be challenging. Don't let that discourage you. If you give it your best (or somewhere close to that), expect great rewards. It won't happen overnight – but it's going to happen. Keep dreaming and keep believing.

Trying new things early in life will help you determine the path you take in the future. Some interests may remain unknown forever unless you simply give it a try.

Writing? Singing? Acting?
Whatever it may be, just give it a try...

Dear Parents

It isn't easy to watch our children fumble and stumble. But sometimes, that's what it takes to help them become confident, capable and independent individuals.

Cheer the good stuff –

When you notice your child doing something helpful or nice, let him know how you feel. It is a great way to reinforce good behaviour so he's more likely to keep doing it.

Live a little greener –

Show your kids how easy it is to care for the environment. Waste less, recycle, reuse and conserve each day.

“There is no limits to what you can accomplish, except the limit you place on your own thinking.”
